Description

This announcement amends NRL-Wide BAA03-01 posted on Jan 02, 2003 by revising topic- BAA 55-03-05 ADVANCED INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY to include an additional area of interest, paragraph (5)advanced extraction and knowledge discovery technologies to support force protection and counter insurgency operations by foreign threats. The first focus area is automated information extraction to include the rapid identification and automated extraction of relevant information from message externals (message headers and footers) and message internals (content). The second focus area is automated knowledge discovery to include a) automated identification of groups and group membership; b) automated identification of indicators preceding impending attacks (indicators internal and external to a group); c) automated identification of the common and distinctive components between two or more graph sets, such as those produced by differing analytical tools (link analysis software, etc) or from differing data sets; d) automated pattern learning to discover patterns of interest identified by experts using training data sets.

The complete BAA including proposal preparation instructions, technical points of contact for each topic, and evaluation criteria is available at <http://heron.nrl.navy.mil/contracts/baa.htm>
