The purpose of this amendment is to revise "7. Software – CLIN 0001" and "Training - CLIN 0002" of the specification.

7. Software

1. All system operation and data evaluation software must be included.
2. System must be able to be operated remotely by users.
3. ICDD PDF2 Library Search software and database for phase identification must be part of the data evaluation software.
4. ICDD PDF2 library must be included.
5. Provide auto-indexing capability and structure determination that is compatible with the ICDD PDF2 Library Search software and database for phase identification.
6. The system must include a computer for system operation. Computer must allow remote access for on-board diagnostics and system control.

Training – CLIN 0002

1. Threshold Requirement: Vendor must provide system training for one person at NRL within three days of acceptance of CLIN 0001.
2. Objective Requirement: Vendor must provide an advanced operator training for one person at NRL or at the vendor's facility within one year of installation of CLIN 0001. If the advanced training will be held at NRL, the vendor's cost proposal shall list the travel costs for the advanced training separately in its proposal. If the advanced training will be held at the vendor's location, the vendor's proposal shall list the travel costs for the advanced training separately with zero dollars. Travel for the NRL personnel to the vendor's facility will be the responsibility of the government; therefore, the travel costs shall not be included in the proposal. The travel costs of the government personnel to the vendor's facility will be factored into the overall cost for evaluation purposes.
